Professors Without Borders

A social enterprise dedicated to university education

PROWIBO aims to facilitate international teacher mobility and provide students all over the globe with a dedicated, professional and inspiring learning environment that equips them for success in later life. Due to the nature of PROWIBO's operation, travel costs have historically proved to be a limiting factor with inter-continental flights, boat trips and in-country commutes all needing to be paid for. However, with Carrier's support, this is set to change. Now an official sponsor of the organisation, Carrier funded the travel costs of additional professors this summer, without whom the schools faced being cancelled, as well as committing to coordinating the travel arrangements for future schools.

Where should we go? Such a simple question, but how do you make an informed choice? This conundrum is answered across the pages...

Right: Six Senses Zil Pasyon, Seychelles

the escapist

Going off-grid can seem daunting to some, but not you. You can think of nothing better than taking time out, and completely letting go – for a little while at least. A far-flung destination that couldn't be further from the daily grind, it's time to take some R&R that's entirely your own. Find your escape, you deserve it.

Tropical healing

Serenity seekers on the hunt for some well-earned downtime need look no further than A-listers’ favourite, COMO Parrot Cay in Turks & Caicos. The epitome of private island escapism, this minimalist, back-to-nature utopia is home to acres of unspoilt mangroves, a mile long beach and the renowned COMO Shambhala Retreat.

Lost & Found

10 nights

First you will be lost. Then you will be found. This is a journey like no other, where if you can find the courage to trust us, we'll give you the most rewarding trip of your life.

We often forget that not taking a risk in life is perhaps the greatest risk of all. This is a journey into the unknown, a journey into both a physical landscape and the landscape of your mind. Intricately choreographed to deliver profound and lasting change, this journey is about finding your bearings in every sense. You are the adventure.

The concept is in essence extremely simple. You will travel with your guide by helicopter to a remote wilderness location. As you both leave the helicopter, your guide will place a box on the ground before climbing back in. Watching it disappear into the sky, the realisation will dawn that you are now alone and lost. Inside the box are a set of instructions and all the essentials you need to survive. Over the course of the next week, you will be asked simply to complete the journey, with your guide helping at various points along the way. This is no common journey.
